Polonia Palace Hotel welcomes Mr Luc Besson

One of the most famous, astonishing French directors – Mr Luc Besson has visited Warsaw on 8th March because of the Polish premiere of his newest movie called “Angela”. He has arrived in the city by his own plane, and at the same time begun a very busy day for himself. The director was accompanied by Ms Rie Rasmussen - the actress who played a title role in the movie.

The majority of the time, during a one-day stay in Warsaw, the guests spent at the Polonia Palace Hotel giving several interviews to the press and television.

On the same day, the Hotel has welcomed Ms Anja Garbarek who is a daughter of Jan Garbarek – one of the best jazzmen in the world. She composed the soundtrack to “Angela” and that was her first film project.

All three were the guests of honour at the press conference that was held at the “Ludwikowska Restaurant” of the Polonia Palace Hotel. The conference grouped over 100 journalists.

In the afternoon the guests could rest in stylish rooms at the Polonia Palace Hotel, individually designed and decorated with highest quality fabrics, furnishings and fittings. Fortunately there was also a time for having their lunch at the cozy, Vienna-style Café Strauss.

In the evening, the guests attended the premiere at the “Relax” Movie Theatre where Mr Andrzej Wajda, a great master of “Polish school” of the film industry, was also present.

The Polonia Palace Hotel do its best to perform the tradition of Polish hospitality. Being still the newest Warsaw hotel, it remains one of the most elegant hotels where its luxury and splendor always guarantees interest of celebrities.
